Waldo Store Unique in Rural Business Places

Has Served Village 65 Years and Housed Postoffice for Forty Years

BY BOB BYRD

The R W Gabler general store at Waldo occupies a unique position among business places of Marion county. It has served the community under the Gabler name for 65 years and has housed the postoffice there for more than 40 years

Both in the length of time it has been operated by a family and in the store's record of service, it is believed unequalled in Marion county

The store was founded in 1872 by the late William Gabler, father of the present owner, Ralph W Gabler. Although the business has been located in two different business rooms in Waldo, it has served the community without interruption since its founding

Ancestors of Mr Gabler also served Waldo residents of another generation with a general store and postal service. It was Andrew Straub, one of the early settlers of the community and the maternal grandfather of Mr Gabler, who was Waldo's first postmaster and operator of the community's first general store. He was postmaster in the stagecoach days, serving from Nov 26 1847 to Feb 8 1858

As the store began its sixty sixth year Mr Gabler spoke interestingly of the part the general store has played in the community throughout the 44 years he has worked there, first as his father's assistant and now as proprietor

His comments dealt in part with the change in community life that has come about gradually in the last 30 years as improving methods of communication and transportation changed the scope of the lives of residents of small towns throughout the nation

He suggested that changes that have come about in the lives of Waldo residents are typical of small towns everywhere because the population of Waldo approximately 400 has seen little change in the last score of years

Towns like Waldo he pointed out were isolated to a limited extent years ago when horse and buggy transportation made distant trips difficult and when the community's chief source of information about what was going on in the outside world consisted of weekly editions of a Cincinnati newspaper read generally in the community

Base Burner Loses Appeal

One of the biggest changes in the general store picture Mr Gabler said has been the disappearance of loafers

People used to come in not only to make purchases but to swap stories, talk over the day's news of the town and visit with their neighbors Mr Gabler said. We didn't have any closing hours in those days—we stayed until the people at the store went home

Now people come in, make their purchases and leave. Every one's busy doing something or going some place. Instead of sitting around the store visiting and swapping stories in the evenings they sit at home and listen to the radio or jump into an automobile

GEDEON ADMITS GUN OWNERSHIP

Taken to Court for Arraignment Without Questioning About Slayings

200 DETECTIVES SEE HIM

Prisoner Declares He Did Not Know He Violated Anti-Firearms Law

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK April 2—Under bright lights in the police lineup surrounded by a grim parade of beggars thieves and gangsters picked up on suspicion Joseph Gedeon admitted today he possessed a gun illegally and was taken to felony court for arraignment without being asked a single question about the fantastic triple murders on Beekman hill

Headquarters was jammed with detectives some 200 of them seeking a glimpse of the 51 year old upholsterer who now has been questioned for more than 30 hours concerning the slaying of his artist model daughter Veronica, his estranged wife Mary and a roomer Frank Byrnes in an apartment Easter Sunday morning

Bail Set at $10 000

Appearing in magistrate Michael Ford's court for preliminary hearing with bruises showing on the right side of his face Gedeon through his attorney Peter L F Sabbatino asked that nominal bail of $50 be set

Magistrate Ford then set bail at $10 000 and ordered the case up for hearing at 2 p m in felony court

Sabbatino's request that four physicians be permitted to examine Gedeon in Tombs jail was granted by Magistrate Ford but an additional request for permission to photograph the little upholsterer's body which Sabbatino said was badly bruised during the two day police questioning was refused

No effort was made immediately to raise the bail and Gedeon was taken back to the tombs

Sabbatino heading for the prison to watch the physical examination of his client hotly charged the police with brutality during their protracted questioning

Sabbatino said that he was considering asking at the afternoon hearing that police officers who questioned Gedeon be prosecuted for their brutality

Gedeon was bright semi-defiant and showed no signs of his questioning

Charged with violation of the Sullivan anti firearms law Gedeon denied he had any idea that he was breaking a law. He gave his history

YOUTH REARRESTED AS FREEDOM NEARS

New Charge Filed After Grand Jury Returns No Indictment in Burglary

Marion police arrested Albert Stephens 20 of Greenville S C this morning as he prepared to leave the county jail after the grand jury yesterday returned no indictment on a burglary charge

The grand jury returned no indictment against Stephens who had been held in connection with the burglaries of five business places on Feb 13. Police however took Stephens into custody on a charge of malicious destruction of property in connection with one of the burglaries

The charge is he broke a plate glass window valued at $75 at the Sauer & Ocker grocery. The grocery is one of the five places Stephens allegedly entered breaking windows in each place and taking money or loot at some places police said

Stephens pleaded not guilty to the destruction charge when arraigned in municipal court this morning and was returned to the county jail under bond of $200 to await a preliminary hearing on April 5. He has been at the jail since the night of the burglaries.

TAX PROTEST MEETING SET FOR TONIGHT

Marion County Group To Hear Report on Threat of New State Levies

MILLIONS IN PROSPECT

All Taxpayers Urged To Attend Session in Chamber of Commerce Office

All Marion county taxpayers are urged by W D Brown secretary of the Marion Chamber of Commerce to attend the first 1937 meeting called by a group of civic leaders and business men united in a protest movement against the threat of millions of dollars in new state taxes. At the meeting set for 7 30 tonight in the Chamber offices on East Center street opposite the courthouse a word picture of appropriation bills pending in the state legislature will be presented

Tonight's meeting follows a visit by Mr Brown to Columbus Wednesday to obtain facts in regard to present and possible state tax programs

The county group known as the Inter Organization Conference is headed by F E Guthery president of the National City Bank & Trust Co and is one of 88 in the state one for each county. Comprising the state group are state organizations of bankers business men manufacturers insurance companies and attorneys Mr Brown said

In a letter sent out to Marion county residents Mr Brown said Tax spending groups are infesting the state capitol demanding millions of dollars in new taxes. The state budget has been increased several millions of dollars but as yet has not been approved by the general assembly. The total appropriation bills in the house and senate propose to spend $170 000 000 and all of the bills to spend money are not in and some bills calling for spending of money do not state how much. Many are of the blank check type

Mr Brown said the tax spending groups sponsoring the bills are actively organized and working for passage of many types of taxes including those on automobiles gasoline incomes personal property doubling intangible taxes and others

Committee Lists

Members of the Marion county committee are Mr Guthery chairman Mr Brown secretary J H Watters Harry Margwarth Earl T Smart M F Burke J M Klein maier B E Corwin Harry Crawbaugh Phil Rushmund C A Klunk Carl E Danner C R Harrison J J Huebner W H Lingo of LaRue Chris Turoff M E Baldwin Dr R T Morgan F L Hill C G Ungerricht Ray Geer A C Bachman Wallace W Thompson Bernard R Smith Carl J Watrous Millard Hunt E G Siefert and E J Scheuenlaub

Officials of surrounding counties are Morrow Dr G B Robinson of Mt Gilead Union A A Sharp of Marysville and Crawford Charles F Michael. Mr Brown is supervising the work in Morrow Union and Wyandot counties. Wyandot county has no chairman at present he said. Meetings will be held in all three counties within a week

Mr Brown said the anti tax groups were organized in the state about two years ago at the time Governor Davey appointed the Sherill committee to investigate state government. The Inter Organization conference has stood behind the work of the committee continually he said

Mr Guthery will preside at tonight's meeting and reports of Mr Brown's visit to Columbus will be given

35,000 Ohio Men Join in Walkout From Coal Pits

No Formal Order Issued by Union But Work Halts Pending New Agreement

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O April 2—Lack of working contracts in the nation's [illegible] coal fields [illegible] most of Ohio's 1524 mines and left 35 000 miners idle today the state division of mines reported

No formal strike order had been issued by the United Mine Workers union which claimed 2 000 Ohio members but the organization ordered all work halted until an agreement was reached with operators on a new hour and wage contract

Ohio miners will lose approximately $157 000 daily in wages during stoppage of operations. Officials of the Ohio Coal Control association at Cleveland estimated the daily wage of the 35 000 miners at $4 50

Most of the mines are closed tight said James Berry chief of the mine division

I don't believe any of the independent miners working in the smaller mines will attempt to operate. If they do the union miners will picket the mines

Berry said he anticipated a peaceful suspension of work similar to the suspension of operations two years ago while the mine union and operators negotiated the contract which expired at midnight Wednesday

He described present relations between the mine union and Ohio operators as cordial. He said this relationship had vastly improved since the last serious mine strike in 1932 when former Gov George White was forced to call out the national guard to halt violence in the southern Ohio coal fields

Crews of maintenance men agreed upon by the mine union and operators manned pumps and ventilating systems in the mines to prevent floods and gas accumulation

Both miners and a majority of the Ohio operators expressed confidence that the suspension would be brief. Surveys made by operators indicated factories had coal reserves for 60 days

Hocking Coals Inc an association of operators with mines in Hocking Perry Athens Meigs Vinton and Morgan counties estimated that the suspension was causing a daily pay roll loss of $35 000 to workers in the southern Ohio district. Between 5 000 and 6 000 men are employed in mines in the six counties

Nearly every mine in Ohio had

Auto Sale Bills Set New All Time High Mark Here

All existing records for the number of automobile bills of sale issued in any month were broken in March with a total of 1 552 Clerk of Courts Carl L Haberman reported today. The previous monthly high was in March of 1936 when 1 568 were issued

Similarly sale of 231 new passenger cars last month was the highest since May of 1929 when 233 were sold. Indication of the remarkable upturn in automotive business here in the last few years is seen in the fact that the 231 new cars sold in March were only 168 less than were sold in all of 1932 and 316 less than in all of 1933

Only 21 new trucks were sold here last month records show. In March of last year 40 new trucks and 174 new passenger cars were sold

POPULAR VOTE FAVORED TO CHANGE CONSTITUTION

Norris Wants Amendments Submitted to People at Following General Election

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON April 2—Sen Norris Independent of Nebraska, advocated today that the people vote directly on proposed constitutional changes in the next general election after submission of an amendment.

"Simplification and speeding of the amending process should help materially to solve social and economic problems which lie behind the dispute over the courts" he said

Norris disclosed that he soon may offer such an amendment. He would require two-thirds votes in the senate and house to submit an amendment to the people as at present. The provision for approval by three fourths of the states also would be retained

Instead of having legislatures or state conventions act on ratification however the voters themselves would decide

Amendments as alternatives to the Roosevelt court reorganization bill were receiving renewed attention by the senate judiciary committee.

Walter F Dodd, Chicago lawyer advocated today constitutional change rather than what he termed subordination of the supreme court to "political branches" of the government

"If a precedent of this character

CHIEFS PREDICT ACCORD TODAY

West Virginia Operators' Agreement To Boost Wages Brings Peace Nearer.

FINAL REPORT AWAITED

Settlement Would Send Workmen Back to Shafts and End Shortest Walkout.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK April 2—Settlement of the soft coal strike this afternoon before the end of its first day was predicted today in usually well informed quarters

Southern West Virginia operators the last to agree to the United Mine Workers wage increase demands had decided to go along with other operators it was said

This word came from sources close to both miners and operators just before a meeting of the joint committee of miners and operators to continue negotiations

Await Final Report

The committee was to report later in the day to the full Appalachian joint wage conference that determines the wage scale for soft coal miners throughout the country. If an agreement is ratified today 400 000 soft coal miners will go back to work Monday morning after the shortest strike in the industry's history

The shutdown of the nation's bituminous industry in which 400 000 men are employed with the prospect of presidential intervention if it lasts more than a few days followed the failure of negotiations to effect a new wage agreement in six weeks of conferences

The miners demand for time and a half for overtime proved the principal stumbling block after other barriers had been hurdled.

30 Days Supply on Hand

The industry which in 1935 produced coal valued at $700 000 000, shut down with only 30 days coal supply above ground operators estimated

The old contract expired at midnight March 31 and without a new agreement not a wheel turned. Technically the strike started yesterday but the mines were idle as the anniversary of the eight hour day was observed

As the miners celebrated the man they honored—John L. Lewis, president of the U M W one of the largest and most powerful labor organizations in the country —sat with other negotiators in a conference room here attempting to reach an accord

Two sessions one last night failed to bring a settlement of differences and finally the negotiators called it a day to meet again this afternoon

The miners originally demanded wage increases averaging 15 per cent a cut in the work week from 35 to 30 hours two weeks vacation with pay and a guarantee of 200 days work each year

Want Longer Hours

The operators originally sought an increase in the work week from 35 to 40 hours with no change in pay rates

After conferences nearly every day since the negotiations started Feb 17 the miners by yesterday had reduced their demands to the following

An increase of 50 cents in the basic daily wage $5 50 in the north and $5 10 in the south under the old agreement, an increase of nine cents in the combined cutting and loading rate for miners paid by the ton, an increase of 70 cents for operators of loading machines and an increase of 10 per cent for yardage and deadwork (removal of rock etc) with time and one half for all overtime

Soft Coal Mines Employ 460,000

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON April 2—The bureau of mines estimated today that 460 000 men are employed in bituminous coal mines where work ceased because operators and miners representatives failed to agree on a new contract

The latest statistics the bureau received on the distribution of this employment were from 1935 when the total was 462 403. That year the mines produced 372 373 000 net tons of coal

The bureau's 1935 employment figures compiled by producing districts were as follows

Prosecutor Warns Persons Refusing To Answer Questions Regarding Slaying

By The Associated Press

CANTON O April 2 — Prosecutor A C L Paithelmer said today he would probe deeper into the mysterious shotgun slaying of Mrs Rose Leiter Cable although it has been three weeks since a shotgun blast felled her in her [illegible] Canton home.

His statement came as one of the principal figures in the case Miss Theresa Ludwig companion of the slain woman's contractor husband—Dueber S Cable said in an interview that her friendship with Cable had given her seven perfect years.

Any person who refuses to give us information when we ask for it in connection with this case either will be brought into open court [illegible] compelled to testify on prosecutor's subpoenas or the secrecy of the grand jury will be invoked to compel them to testify and give [illegible] the prosecutor declared in a statement.

As far as I personally am concerned this investigation [illegible] has been dropped he added.

Miss Ludwig left Canton under $1,000 bond on a suspicion [illegible] —planning a month's rest with a sister in Conneaut O.

All I want to do is to forget the past and start anew she said adding that she hoped to earn her living by sewing. The divorcee formerly was proprietor of a Canton dress shop.

Cable told police that he maintained an Akron apartment for Miss Ludwig from July 1934 until his wife was killed the night of March 11 as he was in Cleveland. Detective Capt. Elmer L Clark said the five room suite was used as a party hangout by other northeastern Ohio business men friends of Cable.

Showing no bitterness Miss Ludwig said It will be a great relief to me when they solve this case.

Cable is free under $10,000 bond on a similar suspicion complaint.

SOLONS FACING TWO HOT BILLS

Appropriations and Parochial Aid Measures Up For Action Next Week.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Apr. 2.—The Ohio general assembly, entering its fourth month of [illegible] next week, will take [illegible] two of its hottest potatoes—appropriations for 1937-38 and parochial school aid.

The $[illegible] appropriation bill, after being wrestled with in committee for several weeks, [illegible] up for a vote in the house Tuesday. At the same time the senate is scheduled to vote on [illegible] $1,500,000 [illegible] education of parochial and private school pupils.

Members of the legislature were home yesterday for the weekend after labor union forces [illegible] in the house in passage of a bill to restrict authority of state courts to grant injunctions in labor disputes.

Bill Passes 87 to 13

The bill was passed 87 to 13 without debate and sent to the senate.

Extensive debate and offering of amendments likely will precede the vote on the appropriations bill which was increased more than $400,000 by the house finance committee. Some members have asserted that several million dollars could be trimmed from the $[illegible] total.

The parochial bill of Rep. Edward H. Waldvogel was recommended for passage several days ago by the finance committee, but a vote on it was delayed while proponents mustered support.

The senate finance committee is expected to make a study next week to determine if there is need for a new history book to be written about Ohio.

Funds Voted for Claims

Senate passage Thursday included: an emergency measure appropriating $15,000 to the state industrial commission, and $6,500 to the attorney general to clean up compensation claims pending on rehearing; a bill to pay members of the advisory council on unemployment insurance $20 a day for attending meetings but not to exceed $2,000 a year; and to authorize hospitalization of old age pensioners at state expense.

The house passed and sent to the senate bills: to increase the fee for barbers' certificates and renewals from $2 to $3 and to prohibit barbers from working on Sunday and advertising; to establish a permanent commission of three to negotiate compacts with other Ohio valley states for stream pollution control; to permit the state highway director to take lands for road purposes before condemnation proceedings are completed; and to authorize the blind to take "seeing eye" dogs on common carriers.

ALVIN CURTS DIES AT SYCAMORE HOME

Special to The Star

SYCAMORE, Apr. 2. — Alvin Curts, 65, retired Wyandot county farmer, died yesterday at his home following an illness of 10 weeks. He was born in Wyandot county Nov. 4, 1871, and until five weeks ago lived on a farm near here. His first marriage was to Beatrice McCormick who died years ago. Later he was married to Jessie Brentz who survives with the following children by his first marriage: Mrs. Raymond Smith of Upper Sandusky, Mrs. Irvin Cramer of Findlay, Bert Curts of Nevada, and Lamar Curts and Mrs. Robert Bosler of Tiffin. Three brothers, W. C. Curts of Bucyrus, Charles Curts of Mount Vernon, and Frank Curts of near Sycamore also survive.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Sunday at the home and at 2 p. m. at the Smithville U. B. church. Burial will be in the Smithville cemetery.

BURNSIDE DEATH CAUSE REPORTED

Autopsy Reveals Illness Started With Bone Disease.

A bone marrow disease resulting in fatal anemia was found by physicians who conducted an autopsy to have caused the death of Dr. C. E. Burnside yesterday at his home at 262 East Church street, it was announced today.

Dr. Burnside, physician in Marion city and county for nearly 40 years, gradually lost strength following an illness of influenza two years ago. Cause of the decline could not be determined by Columbus and Marion blood specialists.

The funeral will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Groll & Banfill funeral home on East Church street. Rev. Howard L. Oleweiler of the First Presbyterian church will be in charge. Burial will be made in the Forest Glen Memorial park. Friends may view the body at the funeral home.

Cooperation Needed

Marion's newly organized city park commission [illegible] to maintain the parks as a community asset and with the support of public spirited citizens that hope can be realized. It is only with such support however that a program of improvement and proper maintenance can be carried through for funds provided by the municipal treasury are [illegible] inadequate.

Few cities the size of Marion have park land comparing in size and location with our three large tracts totaling almost 160 acres. The land was purchased some 30 years ago by a council which was criticized for its action at the time but which was actually following a wise course. Despite the fact that in recent years lack of sufficient funds has prevented suitable care of the parks their use as recreation spots for thousands of people has brought benefits measuring several times the purchase price.

These benefits can be multiplied greatly in the future if the parks are given the care and attention needed. The park commission stands ready to provide this service if given the means for financing and that should be forthcoming. Members of the commission serve without pay and their willingness to give time and effort solely for the public's welfare is a demonstration of good citizenship which deserves a show of appreciation by the people of Marion. The only substantial way to express such appreciation is through financial backing for the program the commission seeks to carry through.

The commission is made up of three men of sound business ability and experience who can be counted on to get a maximum of results from every dollar used for improving and maintaining the parks. They are W. P. Case who has been a member several years and who has been elected president. The others newly appointed members are J. W. Hartuff and Carter M. Patton. As evidence of appreciation for the interest these men are taking in an important part of Marion's community life and to encourage them in their undertaking other good citizens should voluntarily let them know that they will be assured cooperation and support.

Injustice.

An injustice has been done Sen. Joe Robinson of Arkansas.

Until the judicial issue came along it was assumed this new deal stalwart's somewhat sudden desertion of old fashioned principles had something to do with his hope of being rewarded some day with an appointment to the supreme court.

That is out of the question now. Age and the constitutional restriction on appointing legislators to positions which they helped to create disqualify the senator from further consideration. Majority leadership of the senate is all he can hope to enjoy.

Yet Sen. Robinson has just castigated "Marse Cyartah" of Virginia the unreconstructed rebel for questioning President Roosevelt's judicial scheme. He has been working like a beaver in the senate. He is going down the line for the new deal as though nothing had happened.

If this continues it will have to be granted that Sen. Joe really was converted to new dealism in a [illegible] which has been surrounded with unflattering doubt for the better part of the last four years.

The Dark Horse Closes In

The betting commissioners guessing the outcome of the Spanish civil war aren't happy this week. It remains to be seen how they will try to protect themselves against the upset which now is threatening to plunge them into a hole.

Defenders of the government at Madrid are closing in on Gen. Franco's army. That doesn't necessarily mean they are going to win but it indicates they have a good chance. Aside from wishful thinkers few observers had given serious consideration to that possibility.

It was conceded the government might defend itself successfully so long that its opponents would exhaust themselves. It was pointed out that a stalemate was possible. It was held possible that [illegible] would lose if the struggle lasted long. But scarcely anyone believed the [illegible] could win a decisive victory. The [illegible] them seemed too heavy.

The recent successes however suggest a decision in their favor is possible. If that were to happen the betting commissioners who have staked their money and reputations on [illegible] defeat would be in a jam. There are a great many of these gentlemen scattered [illegible] the world but the [illegible]

New Danger Seen in Court Plan

Sentiment for Amendment Grows

The more the [illegible] proposal is studied by members of congress the more sentiment grows for a simple amendment to the constitution compelling retirement at seventy-five and providing for retirement of two justices of the present [illegible] per year from those already above the age limit suggested so that the court would not be disrupted by too many changes at one time.

Incidentally the letter of Chief Justice Hughes about the efficiency of the court being impaired by making fifteen justices [illegible] profound impression. In some quarters there was a disposition to inquire whether Mr. Hughes had not in effect rendered an advisory opinion when he called attention to the fact that the Constitution authorizes "one supreme court" and not a court consisting [illegible]

[illegible] ought to [illegible] reason to [illegible] of [illegible] by the [illegible]

[illegible] entered by [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] when [illegible] congress of [illegible]

[illegible] the President's [illegible] on a countingof [illegible] enough to defeat the [illegible] it is doubtful whether [illegible] Mr. Roosevelt would [illegible] split his party [illegible] proposals are available on which a majority in both houses would agree.

Thus it appears that a constitutional amendment [illegible] retirement of justices [illegible] 75 with provision for staggering [illegible] would probably include a [illegible] fixing the size of the court at nine. Dean Smith of Columbia university law school who voted for Mr. Roosevelt in 1932 and 1936 and is sympathetic with the new deal made a deep impression on the judiciary committee of the senate when he confirmed the view expressed [illegible] that the people alone and no congress should decide whether the supreme court should be enlarged or diminished in number. It will be recalled that [illegible] a fortnight ago referred to the fact that more than three-fourths of the states of the union do not grant to their [illegible] legislatures the power to fix the size of their highest court but fix [illegible] definite number of justices in the [illegible] of their states so that [illegible] the people on this [illegible] is required before change can be made.

Dean Smith struck at the idea of "packing" the court or seeming to pack it. The [illegible] has been advanced by some proponents of Mr. Roosevelt's plan on the ground that Republican presidents packed the court with reactionary judges. But such argument fails to take into account that it was a Republican President Herbert Hoover who nominated Justice Cardozo and it was an ultra-conservative President Calvin Coolidge who nominated Justice Stone both of which justices are quoted constantly by liberals as being the type of justice they like to see on the bench.

King With Prestige

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Specialist

NEW YORK, April 2.—The youthful king of the Belgians appears to be succeeding in a role which Britain's abdicated monarch Edward VIII essayed unsuccessfully—that of being a real ruler instead of an affable figurehead.

Leopold's recent visit to London with the blessings of his government to discuss a security pact is a striking example of the trend of monarchy in Belgium. Such treaty negotiation is a job which normally would be undertaken by the premier or the ambassador to the Court of St. James and perhaps would have been in this instance but for a disturbing political situation at home.

KING LEOPOLD

The assignment of the handsome [illegible] 35 year old Leopold to the task served a double purpose. It emphasized the solidarity of the Belgians in their new isolation policy and was a fine bit of advertising of the fact that the king is a dominant figure in Belgium.

Actually Belgium is under a constitutional monarchy which differs little from that of England. Parliament is supreme. The king is supposed to take orders and not give them.

But the Belgians seem to be building their king up into a strong figure to offset any tendency toward a dictatorship under fascism or communism. They [illegible] believe that a powerful throne is an [illegible] in these parlous [illegible]. The Belgians don't want any dictator but [illegible] necessary for them to have one it will be the king if the present [illegible] have their say.

BOWLING GREEN, O., April 2.—A prediction of a 46-year period without serious drouth and with unusually heavy rainfall came today from Prof. Edwin L. Moseley professor emeritus of biology at Bowling Green State university.

He said his long-range forecast was based on studies of weather in the United States since early in this century.

Coupled with Prof. Moseley's statement was an assertion at Columbus by Wilber [illegible] State geologist that this year's floods directly had raised the Ohio water table to a point where it was adequate for normal needs for a long time to come barring extreme drouths.

"Beginning with the next five years," said Prof. Moseley, "it is not unlikely that there will be [illegible] three dry years. From then until 1990 there will be either unusually [illegible] rainfall," he said.

New Light On Court Bill Origin

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Senator Wheeler has been saying some unnamed parties urged him fifteen months ago [illegible] to get him to introduce a bill increasing the supreme court to fifteen justices. He has never identified the parties but he came rather close in senate debate the other day when he said:

"I said then to those who brought it (the bill) to me: 'If you take this issue into the campaign from a political standpoint it will ruin you.' I said further: 'You will have every church leader in the United States against you.' I was approached again later in the spring and I told them the same thing."

The bill then brought to his attention was not the identical bill now pending but one to increase the supreme court permanently to fifteen.

Senator Wheeler did not need to mention names to his senatorial colleagues who knew his inseparable associates last session were President Roosevelt's unofficial attorney general Tom Corcoran and Ben Cohen. The three were working very closely together on the holding companies bill. The one who asked Mr. Wheeler to sponsor the bill was Mr. Corcoran if good memories can be relied upon. The draft of the fifteen judge bill however was understood to be the result of their joint labors.

Some senators with inside information have gone as far as to say without mentioning Wheeler that Gen. Corcoran and Gen. Cohen are the sole authors of the pending proposal.

Hands

Available evidence indicates they probably were the instigators of the fifteen idea but are not the sole authors of the plan.

The program as laid down by the President really seems to be a combination of several separate plans which Mr. Roosevelt himself personally put together with the aid of Judge Rosenman of New York and the justice department. The original Corcoran-Cohen plan for instance would merely have authorized the President to appoint six new supreme court justices whereas the President has altered that proposed method by making it contingent upon the failure of [illegible] justices to retire and thus giving it a temporary tone.

Origin of the idea for [illegible] of 50 more lower federal court [illegible] was apparently independent [illegible] may be traced to an unpublished report presented to the house judiciary committee last summer by Federal Judge Denman of San Francisco. This report also contained the recommendation for [illegible] between supreme and lower courts [illegible] not urge [illegible] tampering with [illegible] supreme court [illegible] Landis worked [illegible] on his phase of the program for the President. So did the national attorney general Mr. Cummings who [illegible] which the President [illegible] based. Judge Rosenman the President's friend and personal counsel is supposed to have helped to round out the plan in the message.

This may not be the whole story but it is the best to be pieced together at this time in the face of the official [illegible] that the plan was [illegible] worked [illegible] of the justice department and the President.

Understanding

Pomp [illegible] its silk [illegible] for [illegible] Lord Tweedsmuir governor general of Canada. One reason is Mr. Roosevelt was given such a reception on his recent Canadian visit he did not want to be outdone.

There are three other reasons which may appease the wonder of news readers at the extraordinary social gayety of the occasion: (a) The St. Lawrence waterway treaty will require much friendship to revive it. (b) trade treaties with Britain and Canada is involved in many delicate new problems and (c) the British naval building program is beginning to be regarded more [illegible] by the navy than at first.

The basic international policy of the administration is that friendly personal acquaintanceship must be established among state men of the world before anything can be accomplished for peace, finance or trade. That idea is Mr. Roosevelt's own and would be unanimously approved even by the senate and the supreme court.

Alertness

More sub-cellar military conferences are going on around the war department these days than since the World war. They are not the usual routine meetings of the general staff but highly technical discussions in which experts from military intelligence are called in to report presumably on such subjects as the Spanish war, British, Italian, German moves in the Mediterranean and the semi-secret war preparations being made in Europe.

Self Expression

Some government employes have been talking matters over and you may be sure if they ever decide to express collectively in a mass protest it will be a "stand-up strike." The Lewis method lacks novelty for political workers.

HIGHWAY TRANSFER TO STATE PROPOSED

Survey of Roads Ordered by Commissioners as Preliminary Step

County commissioners have issued an order for a survey of part of the LaRue-Prospect pike and of the Morral-Kirkpatrick road in preparation for a possible transfer to the state highway system County Engineer Carl H Tozzer said today

The section of the LaRue-Prospect road known as county road No 3? extends about six miles from Wixstead corners south and east of Newmans. Another section from Wixstead corners north and west to near Agosta is under construction by WPA workmen

The section from Agosta to LaRue is already a state road having been transferred several years ago

Only a two-mile section of the Morral-Kirkpatrick road remains to be shifted a seven-mile section having been transferred several weeks ago. The new section now a township road extends from north of Martel to the Morrow county line

ANTI-SITDOWN VOTE BLOCKED IN SENATE

Robinson Asks Lawmakers To Send Proposal to Committee for Consideration

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON April 2 Majority Leader Robinson Democrat of Arkansas asked the senate today to send to the interstate commerce committee for due consideration a proposed anti-sitdown strike amendment to the Guffey coal bill

Coming from a conference with administration chiefs Robinson made his motion immediately after the senate convened He made it in an effort to block a vote on the troublesome sitdown issue

There is a general feeling in the senate Robinson said that a subject matter of this importance involving as it does many considerations of policy have the attention and thought of a standing committee of the senate

Robinson said a number of senators planned to offer amendments or substitutes for the Byrnes proposal which he asked also be referred to the commerce committee for a report by resolution not later than 30 days

Sen Byrnes Democrat of South Carolina author of the amendment which would add to other policy declarations in the Guffey bill a statement opposing the use of the sitdown technique by coal miners asked if Robinson would agree to have the committee report given immediate consideration whenever reported

Robinson said he had no authority to do so

The house which heard the attitudes of President Roosevelt and Gov Murphy toward Michigan strikes praised and criticized yesterday awaited a report of its committee taking testimony on the demand of Rep Dies Democrat of Texas for an investigation of sitdown strikes

The house judiciary committee approved 8 to 7 an anti-lynching bill introduced by Rep Mitchell Democrat of Illinois only Negro member of the house

A senate agriculture subcommittee recommended government aid for tenant farmers who want to buy land of their own—a proposal rejected by a house committee

The house agricultural committee continued its hearings on other aids to small-income farmers These would provide small loans to keep farm owners from losing their land and a government resettlement program to take families off poor land

LABOR FIGHT FLARES ON CLEVELAND FRONT

Four Slugged Allegedly in Attempt To Force Their Way Into Union Meeting

By The Associated Press

Slugging of four men at Cleveland brought a declaration today that they were injured when members of the Cleveland Federation of Labor attempted to force their way into a closed meeting of the Independent Building Trades union

The statement was made by Louis Schwartz president of the trades union after one of the men Ralph [illegible] 33 required hospital treatment for serious face bruises All four were members of the trades union whose 700 members Schwartz said dropped out of the Cleveland Federation of Labor when they were unable to pay their dues

Federation of Labor officials were not immediately available for comment

Other elements in the complex Ohio labor situation included threat of a strike of union meat cutters at Cincinnati if stores fail to comply with a new hour schedule continuation of peace negotiations in the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co strike at Akron and announced settlement of a 24-day old sitdown strike of 300 Springfield Metallic Casket Co employes

Developments also included a plea by Patterson Foundry and Machine Co officials at East Liverpool for a court injunction to prevent interference with executives at the strike-bound plant and a company declaration that union potters had increased their wage demands in negotiations at Atlantic City N J in which many eastern Ohio workers have a stake

It used to be we didn't have any breakfast cereals Now you can see we have a dozen different kinds and they are generally used

Everyone lives faster now It used to be that people would come in for their mail once a week getting it when they called for the weekly newspaper Now they come in one or more times daily

Mr Gabler also told how representatives of wholesale houses used to call at the store once in two weeks and that the goods ordered that day would be delivered about a week later Prior to the time the railroad line was built it was necessary to drive a wagon to the Prospect railroad station to get the shipment Now salesmen call every day and deliveries are made the following day by truck he said

Started at Age of 11

Mr Gabler now 55 started working in the store as a boy of 11 He served as assistant postmaster under his father for 18 years and in 1914 was appointed postmaster under civil service when his father was retired His father had served through a period of years when the postmastership was not protected by civil service laws and held the office only under Republican administrations Mr Gabler estimated his father served about 24 years with occasional interruptions due to changing administrations

$10,000 IN CASH

JUST FOR A NAME FOR THIS BABY GIRL!

What Woman Can't Name An Adorable Baby Girl Like This? A Housewife Has A Better Chance Than A College Professor!

GRAND FIRST PRIZE $5,000.00 in CASH

702 OTHER CASH PRIZES

Contest Closes Midnight, April 30, 1937

Purpose Of Contest To More Quickly Induce You To Try This Far Faster-Washing, Whiter-Washing, "No-Scrub" Soap That's Safe As Can Be For Colors, Hands

● Think of it! $5,000 Grand First Prize for a first name for this adorable baby girl! It's so easy—so simple that even a college professor has no better chance than you. Don't wait! Read on this page the circumstances surrounding the discovery of the baby and send your entry in right away! If you don't win the $5,000 First Prize you have 702 other chances—for there are 703 cash prizes in all!

The reason we offer these large cash prizes is to induce more women to try OXYDOL—the Ivory soap people's latest amazing "no-scrub, no-boil" laundry soap. OXYDOL is often called the "miracle soap of modern science" because of its great difference in action and results.

What It Does

Combining speed and safety in a way no single soap has done before, OXYDOL does these 4 amazing things:

(1) Soaks out dirt in 10 minutes without scrubbing or boiling. Even grimy collar bands come white with a gentle rub between the fingers.
(2) Gets white clothes 1 to 5 shades whiter than other soaps, proved by scientific Tintometer tests.
(3) Cuts washing time 25% to 40% in tub or machine.
(4) Yet so safe that every washable color comes out sparkling and fresh—your hands stay soft and white. Even silk [illegible] have been washed 100 consecutive times in OXYDOL suds without perceptible sign of fading.

In addition to its marvelous results OXYDOL is economical, too. Tests show it will go one third to one half again as far as the latest soap chips on the market.

Don't miss this chance to win yourself $5,000 [illegible] this adorable baby girl! All you do is follow the directions printed on the entry blank at the right. Get busy right away—send in your choice for a name and be sure to send your entry on or before midnight April 30, 1937.

FACTS SURROUNDING MYSTERIOUS DISCOVERY OF THIS BABY GIRL...

Please take care of my baby. H.R.

X marks the spot where baby was found wrapped in a blue blanket in Ma Perkins lumberyard. The baby is approximately nine months old and has curly blonde hair and blue eyes.

Birthmark on left shoulder blade resembles a 4 leaf clover. Could this be any guide to the baby's name? In this fascinating contest you have just as good a chance to win as a college professor.

Old Almanac found in baby's basket with book marker at the "Signs of the Zodiac." Did the mother attempt to read the baby's future in the stars? Zodiac signs supposedly indicate good luck, bad luck, etc. according to the stars at birth.

Note found pinned to baby's blanket. Why didn't it give her name? $5,000 first prize for the winning name! 702 other cash prizes as well! Think of a name right now and send it in!

The survey included listing of the facilities of Marion homes showing that of 5,9[illegible] residence units checked for plumbing 5,599 had toilet and bath facilities [illegible] had 1,674 have neither toilet nor running water. If you have steam or hot water heat you're one of 541 families in Marion with that type of heating unit. In the heating facilities classification 3,5[illegible] reported central warm air heating plants, 4,207 listed other types of installed heating units and 39 listed no heating units.

A total of 8,304 or 95.7 per cent of the residence units checked use electricity for lighting.

The workers inquired about the number of persons in a family in comparison to the number of rooms in their residence and learned that in half of the dwelling units there are two rooms per person. The other extreme was represented by 22 instances in which the average was two or more persons per room.

Population Shifts

The workers found a substantial percentage of the city's population is restless so far as prolonged occupancy of a house is concerned. Of the dwelling units surveyed 10 per cent had been occupied less than six months another 10 per cent from six months to a year and 11 per cent between one year and a year and 11 months. However there were 20 per cent who had lived in one place between 10 and 20 years and 13.7 per cent who had stayed put 20 or more years.

There are more two-person families in Marion than any other one size, there being [illegible] per cent of that size with three person households running a close second with 2,033 or 23.4 per cent. Those with four persons represent 18.[illegible] per cent, five persons 12.5 per cent, six persons [illegible].2 per cent, seven persons 3.6 per cent, with the percentage decreasing on down to the point where only four tenths of one per cent, 35, have 11 or more members. The number of single person families [illegible] or 5.75 per cent.

Ages of Children

Children under 11 years of age are missing from more than half of Marion homes. The survey lists 4,825 families or 55.6 per cent as having no members in this age, with 19.1 per cent having one, 1[illegible].2 per cent having two, [illegible]8 per cent having three and [illegible] per cent having five or more.

The city's population is white except the 107 Negro families representing 1.46 per cent of the total number.

Ninety five per cent of Marion families don't take in roomers. Three hundred and twelve h[illegible]ve have roomers, 79 have two, 33 have three [illegible] while 10 have five or [illegible]. One family has [illegible] more.

Of [illegible] persons whose ages were [illegible] [illegible] the ages of [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] 65 or [illegible] the other [illegible] 1[illegible] per cent [illegible] under one year of age, 1,364 or 6.15 per cent are between ages of one and four, 1,732 [illegible] per cent are between five and nine years, 1,830 or 9.7[illegible] per cent between 10 and 14 years, 1,637 [illegible] per cent between 15 and 19 years.

Of the vacant houses in Marion [in] April the survey workers obtained information about how long [illegible] of them had been empty. This [illegible] showed 40 or [illegible] per cent had been vacant less than [illegible], 49 for one month, 40 [illegible] two months, 50 for three to [illegible] months, 34 for six to eight months, [illegible] eight from nine to 1[illegible] months, [illegible] more than a year and less than two years, 31 for two to three years and 51 for three or more years.

DESERTION IN WAR

One discreditable fact connected with the [illegible] of Ohio volunteer soldiers in the Civil war was the [illegible] rate of desertion. Official records show an average of 44 [illegible] out of every 1,000 deserted.

Many young men away from home and friends for the first time, distracted by homesickness, left for visits home not realizing that their act was desertion, intending to return in a few days. When they came back they found themselves charged with the gravest offense a soldier can commit.

The worst that could be said of these cases was that they were taking a visit home. In many cases the offense was so treated though it had to be sternly dealt with in order to prevent repetition.

MARRIAGES SURPASS DIVORCES IN MARCH

March, first month of spring, found marriages in Marion county nearly twice as numerous as divorces according to records of probate and common pleas courts. There were 18 marriages, five on Easter day, and only eight divorces in the month.

Rev Harry C Davis, Rev H B Twining and Rev Father William J Spick tied for first place with two marriages each, [illegible] ministers having one each.

Of the divorces, seven were granted on grounds of [illegible] neglect and one on grounds of adultery. Husbands won [illegible] wives [illegible].

Married Men Worth More than Single, Doctor Claims

[illegible]

Such security is uncertain for too many of the older generation. It goes without saying that they should not marry without some prospect of self-support but they can properly take greater risks today than would have been thought desirable 20 years ago.

If they are not willing to take some risks there will be many long engagements which are undesirable from every point of view.

Woman's invasion of the business world has worked in some respects against successful marriages, he said. It strains the two sexes for competition instead of co-operation. Marriage demands co-operation.

Marriageable males are not looking for a businesslike executive as a life partner but a romantic associate, Dr Popenoe said. Women with the best chances of marriage are those in fields where sex appeal is an asset, such as the theater and the business office, and not in jobs where the woman must adopt an impersonal aloofness and executive dominance.

—• The •— Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

THE INCOMPLETE AMORIST

A very modern young woman wants to know where she can find an old fashioned Lothario, or even an old fashioned villain would do. The kind who pursued the girl (one girl at a time) and then cast her off.

She would prefer, of course, a sincere and permanent lover, but this, she feels, is as much as she can ask in this day of oscillating masculine hearts. The old fashioned Lothario loved 'em and left 'em. But your modern amorist can neither love them—nor leave them. You can't hold him—and you can't lose him. His heart is just a shuttle.

• • •

No matter how much or how glamorously he may love one woman, he never forgets or overlooks the other. He might miss something. He likes to syndicate his affections and keep a lot of women guessing at the same time.

But in love a woman is a born monopolist. She would rather be loved convincingly, romantically and exclusively for a whole day or a whole season—and then forgotten—than to be loved intermittently and half heartedly for a lifetime. She loathes being one-of-a crowd and would rather a man would get out of her life completely than keep skipping out of it and skipping back again.

When a love affair goes haywire the modern girl does not pine away and go into a decline as the old fashioned girl did. She takes it on the chin like a good sport. She can even forgive and forget it. One man cannot wreck her life—for more than a few weeks.

• • •

But while the affair lasts she wants it to be worth while. She wants it to be genuine and convincing and worth remembering. She wants to be the whole show—not just one of the ensemble. And she wants the show to be enchanting and glamorous.

Variety may be the spice of love for a man, but it is just a headache for a woman who wants her love affairs one at a time—and that done well.

Do modern amorists get the real flavor and the real kick out of romance by doubling in their roles and playing Romeo to a chorus? I wonder.

Why can't the average man keep up his role until the last kiss and the fade-out? Where is his artistic instinct? Surely, as long as there is any glamour in a love affair, it is worth playing with all your dramatic ability—if not with your whole heart.

And when there isn't any more glamour, it's time for a good bow—and ring down the curtain.

March Lived Up To Reputation of Nasty Month

Brrr! It was cold last month. Figures don't lie, mathematicians say, and according to records of Observer E. H. Raffensperger the temperatures in March, 1937 averaged 35.55 degrees, a matter of 2.25 degrees below the average of [illegible].

Compared with March of 1936 when the average was 44.67 degrees, this year's weather was close to traditional March capering.

And March, 1937, treated the city to a dust storm, too, on the [illegible]. A saffron sky and high gale preceded a veritable cloudburst of more than an inch of water. Dust in the air mixed with the rain and left a bespattered city.

One point in which March was deficient, but no complaints were heard, was on snow. [illegible] the month measured [illegible] when, according to statistics there should have been 4.05 inches.

The maximum temperature of the month was 62 on the [illegible] and the minimum was 12 on the night of the eleventh. A glance over Marion's March records over a period of years shows that [illegible] weather the temperatures have generally been in the high sixties and low seventies. The highest the thermometer ever went in [illegible] of recording weather here was 82 in 1910. The all-time low was two degrees below the zero line in [illegible].

Total rainfall for the 31 days was 2.01 inches, 1.05 inches below the average of 3.06. The heaviest rainfall ever to deluge the city was in March of 1913 when [illegible] measured 11.32 inches.

Of 31 days only two were clear from sunrise to sunset. Fifteen went on record as cloudy and 14 as partly cloudy.

We sometimes read in the newspapers about someone being afflicted with a strange disease of the [illegible]. In most instances [illegible] into little details [illegible] the acknowledged [illegible] to the ailment known as Hodgkin's disease.

It is now over 100 years since Thomas Hodgkin of Guy's hospital in London first described the condition which is now known by his name. This affliction is characterized by enlargement of the lymph nodes in different parts of the body. Although a great deal of knowledge has been gathered about this disorder since Hodgkin first described it, the actual cause of the disease is still unknown.

This disturbance [illegible] throughout the world. There [illegible] heredity [illegible] to a common belief [illegible] not a contagious [illegible] gentle [illegible] females more often than males. It is usually [illegible] between the ages of 15 and 35 years.

As I have implied, it is primarily a disease of the lymphatic system. These glands [illegible] doctor calls them, are vital parts of the system. They act as [illegible] kind of glandular structure [illegible] as a protective mechanism against infection. The [illegible] and painful when [illegible] infected material is drained through them.

Lymph glands are found in various parts of the body. In Hodgkin's disease the glands of the neck are usually first involved. The victim notices a slow but [illegible] enlargement of the glands in this vicinity. The condition is painless [illegible] without discomfort. [illegible] one side of the neck and then both sides are involved.

Without relief it is [illegible] the disease within two to three years. But there have been afflicted persons who have lived beyond this period of time and even [illegible] the full span of years.

I cannot overstate the importance of care and absolute confirmation of the diagnosis. This is best determined by careful examination of the blood by an expert as well as microscopic examination of a lymph node or gland removed from the [illegible] of disease.

We are [illegible] were [illegible] in [illegible] every effort [illegible] at the present time [illegible] maladies. The [illegible] satisfactory [illegible] has been found [illegible] is of [illegible] of the glands [illegible] many [illegible]

CONSTIPATION IS A MISERABLE THING!

It takes the [illegible] out of you—makes you feel [illegible] and irritable, ready to worry over the slightest thing.

Yet it can be corrected in most cases, even [illegible] constipation is usually caused by lack of bulk in the foods you eat.

Millions of people have learned that Kellogg's All-Bran corrects constipation by putting "bulk" back in the diet. Within the body, All-Bran absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass and gently sponging out the system.

Kellogg's All-Bran also furnishes vitamin B to tone the intestines and iron for the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily, as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes, are sufficient. Three times daily in severe cases.

Sold at all grocers—and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Ohio Wesleyan Grads Tell of Work in Mission Field

Two Ohio Wesleyan university graduates, Dr. and Mrs. Horace C. Aldrich, are carrying on missionary work in India to which the Million Unit Fellowship Movement of the Methodist Episcopal church will lend its support, according to a news report from the movement's headquarters in Chicago.

Dr. Aldrich is a medical missionary stationed at Thoburn Memorial Hospital in Nadiad, [illegible]

Patients Won't Cooperate

[illegible]

Now is it not good for the Christian's health
To hustle the Aryan brown;
For the Christian riles, and the Aryan smiles,
And [illegible] the Christian down.
And the end of the fight is a tombstone white,
With the name of the late deceased,
And the epitaph drear, 'A fool lies here
Who tried to hurry the East.'

Results Are Gratifying

But in spite of all the handicaps Dr. Aldrich finds gratification in the fact that the results compare favorably with those obtained in America and in fact, some of the recoveries seem almost miraculous.

Probably the most unusual case of the year, Dr. Aldrich reports, is that of a little boy about eight years old who had a fancy for eating hair, and it mattered not whether it came from the family goat, his own head or from that of one of his relatives. He was operated on and a large mass of hair removed. And, in spite of the fact that an older brother gave him an orange to eat on the third day after the operation, he suffered no ill effects and recovered rapidly.

On the day that Dr. Aldrich wrote, the hospital had discharged a man who had been sick for 18 years. While in the hospital he had three operations in four months and went home a well man.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge's Father Appears As Mystery Boat Heads for the Open Sea

"MY SAINTED great-aunt!" Lillian exclaimed beneath her breath as the light Mary had turned on was switched off and the voice from the deck said, "No lights please! Captain's orders."

"This certainly is what the novelists would call an 'eerie experience,'" she went on, muting her voice almost to a whisper. "If there is anything calculated to raise the hair on your scalp plumb upward, with every separate hair erect, it's being on a ship running through the night without lights."

"Pipe down, old dear!" her husband admonished. "I imagine the chief wouldn't care for any comment."

"Probably not," she said dryly, and relapsed into an eloquent silence which the rest of us shared.

There was plenty to occupy our attention and observation, however, even if we were deprived of lights and speech. The boat crept almost noiselessly down the twisting and windings of the tidal creek until finally the salt-laden wind penetrating the cabin, the splashing of the waves, and the uneven motion of the boat told us that we were out on the open sea.

Father Appears

I turned to Lillian in almost uncontrollable excitement tinged with fear. I had not counted upon going out into the ocean. I had not known exactly what I did expect, but the open sea did not enter into it.

"Don't be frightened or uneasy," my father's beloved voice said, and I gave a little gasp of excitement. How had he come into our midst so quietly that we had neither seen nor heard him?

"I have been with you from the first," he explained, "hidden in a secret compartment of the boat, opening off the cabin. I believe they could hunt for days and never find my hide-away. But I am always careful never to leave my close quarters until we are well away from the land.

"I think it is time now to tell you a little of where we are going and why," he said, and smiled as he heard the gusty breath of excitement that went up from us.

"In the first place, Mary," he began slowly, "your father-in-law has gotten himself into a most unholy mess—"

"Oh!" Mary quavered in a small, frightened voice. "Is Noel mixed up in it, too? Will they put him in jail?"

My father laughed, and I think, whether planned or spontaneous, the kindly [illegible] was the best [illegible] she could have had.

"No, my dear child," he said. "Noel's [illegible]. He [illegible] all about. His father has told him nothing, fortunately, and he simply has been acting under orders. Even if he should be arrested, of which there is only one chance in a million, a good lawyer would only need to take about five minutes of his time to set the boy free. So rest easy on that score."

"I'm so glad," Mary said. "But I'm afraid Noel will feel awful if his father has to go to prison. If it weren't for hurting Noel, I'd be glad to see the old buzzard wear the stripes. But of course I'd never breathe that to Noel."

"You're not alone in thinking old [illegible] doing a lockstep would be a healthy lesson," Harry Underwood said. "On general principles, he ought to have a taste of the seamy side of life, just to show him how it feels."

"And you'd be the first to beg him off," my father said sagely. "But I don't think it's going to come to that. If things go as I have planned, tonight will see the end of his folly—and his danger."

He paused and looked at each of us in the light of the dim candle.

"After a run into another harbor a few miles away," he said, "we are going directly out to sea, and to the spot where the [illegible] is riding at anchor. It may make you easier in your mind, Mary, to know that Noel has been in constant communication with me ever since the day I went away.

"By my advice he persuaded his father to give the wireless into his hands, and he has been sending me messages in code every few hours."

There was a knock on the door and one of the crew spoke respectfully.

"Message coming through, sir."

"I'll be right there," my father replied, and turned to us with the meticulous courtesy that never fails him.

"Will you excuse me, please?" he asked, and went away upon the word, while we looked at each other in amazement as we mentally digested the startling information we had received.
